

Controller In Motion
a deharo company

GAYE LEVY: PROFILE

Over thirty years experience as an accounting and operations professional in high-tech and service industries. Specializes in a hands-on approach to task management and coupled with the performance of diverse functions in a fast paced, technology oriented environment. These functions include financial analysis, accounting, budgeting, process controls, administration, software production, information management, facilities, and HR as well as day-to-day business management and supervision.

Controller In Motion Principal
May 1997 to Present (with time off for TransactIQ)

Provides outsourced Controller services to the technology industry as well to management consultants, real estate development companies, and other service oriented businesses. In addition to traditional accounting and finance functions, prepares detailed financial statements with commentary, budgets and cash flows, and financial models in support of venture funding. In most cases, also serves as the chief administrative manager for client companies with responsibilities for HR, facilities, and IT. Typical clients are small, with three to twenty employees with operations at a single physical location or as a virtual company with each employee working out of their home. Virtual company experience includes managing multiple states with their varying revenue taxation and payroll regulations.

TransactIQ.com Chief Financial Officer (Founder)
January 2000 to September 2001

Responsible for finance, human resources and day-to-day business operations at TransactIQ. Actively participated in the development of the TIQ business plan, financial proformas, and angel investment funding ($1.25M). TIQ was an ASP providing intelligent transaction management services to residential real estate brokers. Although successful in completing its product and signing clients, TIQ discontinued operations on September 28, 2001 due to lack of sufficient funding. In October 2001, negotiated the sale of the TIQ intellectual property to Realty Assist which was later acquired by Stewart Title. The TIQ product is now a core product in use by Stewart Title closing officers.

InfoAccess, Inc. Director, Finance and Administration
Integratrak, Inc. Controller
HBI Data Systems, Inc. Financial Systems Consultant

Controller In Motion
a deharo company
1990 to May 1997

Responsible for all financial, administrative, HR, facility, production, and internal MIS operations for rapidly growing software companies.

Computer Communications and Technology, Inc. (COMPTECH)
later, Cincinnati Bell Information Systems
1977 to 1988

Founder and President of CompTech, a leading provider of management software to the paging and mobile communications industry. In addition to turnkey hardware and software solutions, the firm provided billing on a service bureau basis to US West Paging and others. Led CompTech from startup to acquisition by Cincinnati Bell Information Systems in 1988. Spent two years as a Vice President and General Manager for CBIS, with responsibility for bottom line management of the COMPTECH division.

Other

BA 1970, University of Washington, Sociology.

Resides in both Bellevue and Roche Harbor, Washington, with husband, Shelly, and pet Maltese, Snowbear.

Primary passions are ballroom dancing and cruising the high seas on luxury cruise ships.